We are presently working our way through the book of judges. One of the key phrases of the book comes in Judges 21:25 (NRSV) - In those days there was no king in Israel; all the people did what was right in their own eyes.

The problem is that what is right in my eyes is not right in someone else’s eyes. If I don’t like what you say, I’ll just make up my own way.

When I drive on the highway, I notice that very few people travel at the posted speed. Some do, some go slower, some blow my doors off. Why is it important to have a higher power tell us how fast to drive? Because my rate of travel affects everyone else. Wouldn’t it be good if we had a guide to lead us, something above and beyond our limited intellect that knew the beginning and end and all the paths between? Come join us as we seek together to escape the heat - and help each other know the way of life.

Worry is a conversation you have with yourself about things you cannot change. Prayer is a conversation you have with God about things He can change.
